Today was the day they were waiting for… picnic day!
Duffy and his friends all set off together.

After walking a while, they spotted a great big tree with a swing.
So they decided to take a little break.

While Duffy was on the swing, a gust of wind swept his hat right off.
“Oh no!”
Off they went chasing after it.

When they caught up, there before them was the most beautiful view.
“Wow, what a wonderful place!”
They loved it so much, they decided to spend the whole day there.

“I guess it's about time to go home,” said Duffy.
Just then, a tiny glow came from the hat.
A little firefly had somehow found its way inside!

Without thinking, they turned toward the water.
And there, as if to welcome them all, were countless twinkling fireflies.

Everything that happened that day became a special memory that would glow warmly in their hearts.
